Footnotes:
 * The Cems programme was taught in 17 different countries in 2006. ** Data in these columns are for information only and are not used in the rankings. *** Grande Ecole programme. †Average fee for Cems participant schools used in calculating value for money criterion. ‡ Limited access at masters level. Undergraduate degree in management, business or economics required.

Although the headline ranking figures show changes in the data year to year, the pattern of clustering among the schools is equally significant. Some 190 points separate the top programme, Cems, from the school ranked 50th. The top eight participants, from Cems to Mannheim Business School, form the top group of masters in management providers. The second group, headed by Esade Business School, spans schools ranked ninth to joint 23rd, a range of 51 points in total. Differences between schools are small within this group. The 11 schools within the third group are similarly close together. The EuroMed Marseille Ecole de Management, which heads this group, is 30 points above Kozminski University, the last school in the third group. The remaining 14 schools make up the fourth group.
